

A day in my life

Hi. My name's Alexander Caicedo, but some friends call me "Alex". I am a Colombian boy and I live in Norwalk, near to New York.

I live with my aunt Shely and my two cousins in a small house. They are American. I study at Kennedy High School, in Norwalk.

I get up very early – at five o'clock, my aunt at four forty five. I pray for six minutes, I brush my teeth, and then I take a shower for five minutes. I have breakfast. I have omelet with cheese and ham, bread, and a cup of hot cocoa. My cousins only have cereal and milk. My aunt has breakfast with us. She has cereal, milk and some of fruit. We leave home at six ten. She goes to her office by car; my cousins go to study by bike. I go to school by bus. It takes thirty-five minutes. I start classes at seven o'clock. I am in tenth class. I have lunch at twelve at school. I finish school at three o'clock every day. Then, I take the school bus to my house. I arrive home at three fifty. Then I take a nap for 40 minutes. I play Wii with my two cousins Joseph and Sebastian for one hour. Then, I do all my homeworks. I have dinner at seven o'clock; I have French potatoes, steak, and some lemonade. I brush my teeth. I watch the news with my aunt Shelly. Then, I pray for six minutes and, finally, I go to bed so happy for a great day in my life.

Written by María Isabel Moran.